We are "The Droppers"

The Droppers refuse to be your typical cliché band. They don't just want to be the music playing in the background of life. They want to capture your heart, mind, and soul with their melodies. The members want to inspire and connect with their audience on a level that has never been felt before. They believe in the intense power of their music and feel that you will as well. Joe Puccio (Lead Singer) was once quoted "Our songs are powerful because they are raw. Our songs come from our lives, true experiences, and emotions. Every lyric has a meaning. We don't use words for the sake of creating a song, or to "just make it fit." We use them to communicate and convey emotion. To Connect..." Their music will deliver a message to you that you will understand. Their motto is the title of their debut CD. "Live for today." Ramsey Sindaha (Lead Guitarist) states "We realize that we will be laying 6 feet under much longer than we are on top of this glorious planet. So we are just trying to live for fun and not the long run." That statement really touches base with most people. It's a true reflection of how each member lives their lives. Each of which is extremely dedicated to what they do, and they enjoy doing it to the fullest extent. No regrets.

The band was originally founded by a small group of friends on a surf trip one fateful summer in Mexico. Too much sun, and a few too many cerveza's led to an all-night jam session consisting of one solitary song everyone knew. One of the founding members Barry (Who is no longer with the group) came up with the name original name The Panty Droppers referring to an old joke his father once told him. The name has since been shortened to The Droppers once the band realized they honestly had something more to offer to the world besides booze and dirty jokes.

The Droppers current lineup consists of a stellar cast of musicians and songwriters:

- Joe Puccio - Lead Vocals \ Rhythm Guitar
- Ramsey Sindaha - Lead Guitar
- Mike Fitzgerald - Drums
- Bryan Downey - Bass
- Kim Gram - Viola
- Tim Newman - Saxophone

The band has evolved from a cover band to a fun-loving rock band that fuses together many elements from various genre's such as Alternative, Folk, Classic Rock, and Indie in order to create an original home-grown sound that is rivaled by no one. Even though the band was born of modest means, their music is anything but ordinary. Their sound mixes elements of other amazing groups such as The Dave Matthews Band, O.A.R., Lynyrd Skynyrd, John Mayer, and U2.

Lyrically, they address everything from stories of good times to more serious subject matter. The song "Crime" focuses on one of the member's fight with alcoholism. "Destiny" revolves around the ideas that an individual does not have to be a slave to fate. "Rushing to our Graves" was inspired by the masses that live their lives like an obituary instead of actually enjoying the moments presented to them in the present.

The Droppers have performed at numerous popular venues across Southern California. The Whisky a go-go, The Derby, The Joint, The Key Club (where they were a Top 10 finalist out of 900 in a Battle of the Band competition) and Safari Sam's just to name a few. They have also performed for the March of Dimes Charity Group on several occasions for audiences of thousands. The band has also performed at various outdoor venues such as Balboa Park in San Diego, CA for 10,000 people, and Fashion Island in Newport Beach, CA for 6,000. Even an impromptu performance atop an RV at the world famous Stagecoach Music Festival. That just goes to show that they will play anywhere at any time. The Droppers have also had the pleasure of sharing a stage with such amazing talent as Eddie Money, The Gin Blossoms, and William Tell.

The Band:

Joe Puccio: Lead Singer and Rhythm Guitar

Joe has been the driving force behind the band since its beginning. He is the guy that keeps it real. He reminds us all how much fun we have doing what we're doing, and that is why we are here in the first place. It's safe to say that he is a great leader. The band has come a long way since its inception and Joe has continued to surround himself with talented musicians that add to the continuity of the band and the uniqueness of the sound while refining his talents. Joe's great showmanship and charisma always gets the crowd involved and motivated to let loose and enjoy themselves.

Ramsey Sindaha: Lead Guitar

Ramsey, Ramzilla, Shred-Sizzle.... Call him what you will, but he brings it all to the table. He is a major force in the writing and development of our new music, whether it's jamming lead on guitar, playing the brightness to really bring out the chorus, or writing those hard to find lyrics that make it all fit together. Ramsey works tirelessly to produce the sounds we need to make it great. With his vast experience of 18 years playing the guitar. He writes his music under the influence of such great artists like Pink Floyd, The Dave Matthews Band, Led Zeppelin, Pinback, and Classic Master Vivaldi. Whether on stage or amongst friends, his "Live for fun and not the long run" attitude is evident and contagious.

Mike Fitzgerald: Drummer

Mikey, Mikey, Mikey... Where should we start? He is definitely our most animated and colorful member. He is one of the 2 remaining original members and has developed into a great musician. He adds color to our on and off stage antics and provides the rhythm and beat that keeps us moving. He provides a rock solid foundation with his insane beats, rolls, and crescendos. Mike truly is one of the main driving forces that give The Droppers their edge.

Bryan Downey: Bass

Bryan is one of our newest member and brings to the table a hypnotic element on the bass that none of us have experienced before. It seems to be a match made in heaven and he has been able to fill in the missing element to our songs in a way we couldn't communicate, we could hear in our heads, and now we can hear it in our ears. He comes to us with years of experience and is a perfect fit to help round out our sound.

Kim Gram: Viola

Kim has brought a depth in sound and talent that raises the whole performance to another level. Kim is a concert trained violist with more than 15 years of Classical training. Yet thankfully found her way in to this new type of music with style and grace. The powerful resonance of her playing is matched only by her entrancing stage presence and hypnotic style.

Tim Newman: Saxophone

Tim is the most recent add to the band. Joe met Tim at one of our shows, found out that he played the sax and made sure Tim made it to the next practice. We could not have found a more synergistic fit to the music we are trying to play. Time comes to The Droppers with years of experience in Jazz and Rock and has connected with the band and the music. If you can catch a show be sure to keep an eye on Tim and his solos and leads will elevate the sound and feeling of our music.

Droppers

Kim Gram

KIM Gram: Viola

Kim is prettiest one in the band. She Joined the band in May 2009 and came in with more than 15 years of classical training. Her amazing talents and incredible sound she evokes from her Viola add just the edge we need to put us over the top. Not too mention.....She's Hot!!!!

Droppers

Joe Puccio

Joe Puccio: lead Singer and Rhythm Guitar

Joe is the only original member of the band left. He started playing guitar when he was in college at Chico State but never did anything with music until the inception of the Panty Droppers in 2005. Joe is the driving force behind the band, keeps us focused and moving forward. He plays a major role in the writing of our music.

Droppers Ramsey Sindaha

Ramsey Sindaha: Lead Guitar,

Ramsey, Ramzilla, Dr. Shred, call him what you will but he brings it all to the table. He is a major force in the writing and developing of our new music, whether that be the lead on guitar, the bright to really bring out the chorus, or those hard to find lyrics that make it all fit together, Ramsey works tirelessly to produce the sounds we need to make it great.

Mike Fitzgerald

Mike Fitzgerald: Drummer

Mikey Mikey Mikey, where should we start. He is our most animated and colorful members. He is one of the 2 original remaining members and has developed into a great musician. He adds Color to our on and off stage antics and provides the rhythm and beat that keeps us moving
